

Civil War - A-level study day

Teacher notes

Session overview

Students will take part in complementary seminars at both the Tower of London and the London Metropolitan Archives, with time out for lunch and travel.

Charles I's reign ushered in a long and bloody civil war between the King and Parliament. Once again the Tower was one of the King's most important assets. Londoners feared he would use it to dominate them but, in the end, the Tower was won by the Parliamentarians and it remained in their hands for the entire Civil War. Using the Tower buildings and objects from the Royal Armouries students will investigate some of the key individuals and events of the Civil War to enhance their understanding of the period.

Schedule:

10.30 - 10.50	Introduction to the Tower of London in the context of the Civil War
10.50 - 11.50	Examining evidence: through on-site study students will examine both the buildings and documentary evidence to answer the question 'What part did the Tower of London play in the English Civil War of 1642-1653?' Key individuals and events: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Charles I</li> <li>• Sir John Byron</li> <li>• Sir John Conyers</li> <li>• Royal Mint</li> <li>• Archbishop Laud</li> <li>• Thomas Wentworth, Earl of Strafford</li> <li>• Oliver Cromwell</li> <li>• Charles II</li> </ul>
11.50 - 12.50	The armour of the Civil War: handling of both original and replica pieces of Civil War armour. This session will also focus on some of the Tower's archival documents that date from the Civil War period.
